

The Physicians Foundation Sourcebook

A Resource for Media Covering Health Care and Medicine

ABOUT THE PHYSICIANS FOUNDATION

The Physicians Foundation's mission is to empower physicians to lead in the delivery of high quality, cost-efficient health care as today's care environment is rapidly evolving.

Through its original research and its grants to partner organizations, The Physicians Foundation and its experts are promoting physician leadership as critical to addressing the most intractable challenges of our country's health care delivery system. The Foundation is committed to:

- Train more physicians to be leaders in critical discussions that range from individual patient care to the national health reform agenda;
- Ensure the physician-patient relationship remains central to all health care management efforts;
- Investigate and invest in solutions to the growing epidemic of poor physician wellbeing and its tragic consequences; and
- Drive the discussion about the importance of social drivers of health that burden the transformation of care and improving people's health.

The Physicians Foundation also surveys physicians' and patients' attitudes about the health care system through two core biennial studies. Review current and past results at <https://physiciansfoundation.org/research-insights/biennial-physician-surveys-patient-surveys/>.
